New Book Shows Gun Dog Owners How to Have a Finished Dog with Little or No Pain

Author Joan Bailey shows the gun dog owner how to train his dog to be a never-fail retriever, to be steady to wing and shot and steady at the blind. Bailey uses scientific knowledge of canine behavior and techniques that have worked for decades, both here and in Europe.

For gun dog owners who don't like the "ear pinching" way, or using severe methods to whoa the dog Bailey has an alternative. In a precise step-by-step method, and by spending 10 minutes a day with your dog, you will have a fully trained gun dog in 3 to 4 months.

Bailey was a field judge of versatile hunting dogs with NAVHDA, WPGCA, and the KDK-USA for over 28 years. She was editor of The Gun Dog Supreme for 26 years and received 13 awards from the Dog Writers Association of America.

Her earlier book, How to Help Gun Dogs Train Themselves, gained national and international attention from outdoor writers Larry Mueller, Outdoor Life; Bill Tarrant, Field & Stream; Bill McClure, American Hunter; John McGonigle, Gun Dog; and is now its 4th revised edition. It takes the reader through the first 12 months of the gun dog's life. At that point Bailey promised that the dog would be half trained. The new book starts there and concludes with a finished dog.
